

Point-of-Care Scanning

to Achieve HIMSS Stage 7

Is HIMSS Stage 7 certification part of your healthcare organization's strategic plan?

A key criterion to reach HIMSS Stage 7 is having clinically relevant paper documents captured and available electronically within 24 hours of creation. With DataBank's Point-of-Care (POC) capture workflow built into your existing patient imaging application, paper documents are electronically available to your EMR in real-time.

DataBank's POC solution, is a simple, cost-effective, and secure answer for concurrent scanning and automatic indexing. Scanned images are immediately uploaded into your EMR and simultaneously run through an automated indexing process to categorize the images down to a document level. Once the images are indexed and passed through our quality control inspection, we provide a secure data load file to be uploaded directly into your EMR/ECM.

Why are healthcare facilities considering DataBank?

- It's Fast. DataBank's quick turnaround times enable healthcare organizations to achieve HIMSS Stage 7 certification by having paper documents electronically available within 24 hours of creation.
